

How to make wealth by Paul Graham

Is money the only wealth? Well based on what Paul Graham said, it isn't! This article talks about making your own wealth by engaging yourself in start-up businesses. For me, I personally do think that start-up businesses are excellent only in making cash but also it is a good means to improve your business skills and too broaden your connections on people. Those connections are the people who can help you achieve the success of your business. Being rich financially and having the right connections I believe is what Paul Graham truly means by making your own wealth. 6 months from now I will be graduating my degree in BS-IS and pretty soon will be working as an employee for an IT company. A few years of experience as an employee is what I need to come up with my own start-up business. I want to experience the feeling of being the boss of my own. Hopefully all goes well for me.
